Building Cloud Solutions

Private—leverage the savings, scalability and resiliency of cloud technologies in the security of your own data center. Logicalis can help you design and implement a cloud of your own. We partner with IBM, Cisco, HP, VMware and CA to deliver IT services to your business your way. Our comprehensive blueprints take the guesswork, and the risk, out of developing a private cloud.

Public—a multi-tiered cloud infrastructure built on a set of predefined services with flexible support levels designed to meet your exact needs. The Logicalis Enterprise Cloud is built on VMware virtualization technology, Cisco virtual fabric technologies and hardware platforms from our top-tier vendor partners. The Enterprise Cloud is designed to deliver scalable enterprise-class computing and advanced enterprise services.

Logicalis now has two public enterprise cloud platforms: one in Cincinnati and one in Phoenix.

Cloud Solutions

DR-as-a-Service—replicate systems directly to your own secure container on our enterprise cloud platform. In the event of disaster, we can run, monitor and manage your production systems for you until you are ready to go live at home. Saves time and money and ensures peace of mind.

Hosted Exchange—a dedicated, fully managed Exchange environment that works as an extension of your own data center. Don’t settle for the one-size-fits-all approach of other offerings. Customize and integrate your Logicalis Exchange environment to suit your needs. Your authentication is our authentication.

Storage-as-a-Service—instant secure storage solutions with backup, disaster recovery, archiving and global access. Logicalis partners with Nirvanix to provide secure storage on demand. Options include private, public and hybrid solutions.
