Logicalis SMC helps enterprise IT organizations lay a foundation of success for digital transformation.

What Sets Us Apart?

While other Logicalis locations around the world focus on the delivery of IT solutions and services that meet the needs of our clients' end users, Logicalis SMC focuses strictly on preparing our customers' IT environments to deliver those solutions and services in a more automated, controlled and responsive way.

Logicalis SMC creates agile, high-performance IT organizations powered by the Open Group IT4IT™ standard. The result is lower costs, higher efficiency and vastly improved flexibility, as well as a foundation on which our local, regional and multi-national clients can build their digital enterprise.

The IT4IT™ standard is a vendor-neutral architecture that allows enterprise organizations to manage their IT departments more like a business, connecting the processes, tools, data and integration that support the function of IT, and helping IT stakeholders better collaborate with the business as a whole, its solution providers and external IT service providers.

By automating these important processes, Logicalis SMC helps its clients lower their costs, reduce risks, and enable a much more rapid adoption of future IT trends. For any organization – local, regional or multi-national – that is in the midst of a digital transformation, Logicalis SMC is the organization that can help lay the groundwork for its success.

What Do Logicalis SMC Customers Say About Us?

“Instead of replacing our ITSM solution, we’re now working closely together with Logicalis SMC on something much bigger at Delta Lloyd: We’ve called it ‘Management 3.0.’”

– Berrie Vlietstra, IT Director, Delta Lloyd
